1. Introduction

Thank you for your interest in this post. This pack will give you some more information about the role. Please feel free to contact us if anything is not clear or if you have further questions.

Homeless Link is the national membership charity for frontline homeless agencies and the wider housing with health, care and support sector in England. With more than 900 members, we work to improve services and campaign for policy change that will help end homelessness and ensure that everyone has a place to call home and the support they need to keep it. Our member agencies range from hostels, day centres, street-based outreach work and resettlement support to wider supported housing, health and social care providers. Our focus is to change the way that we, as a society, think and act towards single people who become homeless and other vulnerable groups. We do this by influencing policy and strategy at a national and local level. We also work, in partnership with our members, to ensure services for the most vulnerable in society are the best they can be and to seek out alternative solutions. We give information, advice and a fresh perspective; connecting organisations and people. In addition, we provide a range of support to our members via events, training, consultancy and other services, including In-Form, our client monitoring system.

As part of the Social Change directorate, we lead Homeless Link's campaigning and thought leadership activities within the homelessness sector and beyond. We are looking to recruit a Senior Research Manager to lead on developing and implementing our research consultancy strategy to better support Homeless Link members, wider homelessness organisations, local authorities and other key stakeholders to access high quality research skills and support as a consultancy offer from Homeless Link's research team. This role will be responsible for developing the research consultancy strategy and conducting primary research covering a range of areas to better understand the lived experiences of people experiencing and at risk of homelessness, the causes of homelessness and solutions to ending homelessness. The Senior Research Manager will work develop a stakeholder engagement strategy to identify research opportunities, including working alongside the wider Homeless Link consultancy team. This is an opportunity to deliver consultancy style research projects within the supportive environment of a wider research team.

The successful candidate will be an excellent project manager with strong qualitative and quantitative research skills. They will have communication and relationship building skills, understanding of interpreting research findings in wider policy contexts, and of making clear, strategic recommendations for national and local policy and decision makers. If you want to be at the forefront of change – this is the right job for you.

We are actively seeking to increase our diversity within our organisation and would greatly welcome applications from people with lived experience of homelessness, from a black or minority ethnic background and/or with a disability.

Thank you for your interest, and I look forward to receiving your application.

Sophie Boobis

Head of Policy and Research

2. About Homeless Link

Homeless Link is the national membership charity for frontline homelessness services.

Our Vision and Mission

Homeless Link's vision is that everybody should have a place to call home and the support needed to keep it.

Our mission is to develop, inspire, support and sustain a movement of organisations working together to achieve positive futures for people who are homeless and vulnerably housed.

Our Values

At Homeless Link we are:

Committed: We work tirelessly to drive social change to end homelessness for good

Compassionate: We believe in the value and potential of people. We champion justice, humanity and compassion for all

Credible: We speak the truth based on evidence. We listen and learn, ask questions and respond with honesty and integrity

Collaborative: We believe in the power of partnership, working together for better results - with our members, our partners and people experiencing homelessness

What we do

Homeless Link works with our members and experts by experience to improve support for people who are experiencing homelessness or are vulnerably housed, and sustain a movement working towards a country free from homelessness.

Provide advice and support

Our national teams and regional partnership managers provide advice, share good practice, and offer consultancy and support to help our members to be more effective, impactful and resilient. We also develop and offer innovative products and funding to improve services.

Deliver information and resources

We produce and share a wealth of up-to-date information, including good practice toolkits, guidance, the latest research, sector news and policy updates. We also pilot new approaches to tackling homelessness and manage a directory of thousands of services to enable the public and professionals to find local help and support.

Influence policy and shape practice

We campaign to improve the policies that affect people experiencing homelessness and work with local and national government to bring about change. Using our detailed knowledge of what's happening on the ground, gathered from our members, we shape and embed changes in practice.

Facilitate networking and learning

We enable members to learn and network through our national, regional, and online events, providing professionals with the opportunity to share knowledge, experiences, and solutions. We also support staff to improve their skills through our training programme.

6. Privacy Notice

Data controller

Homeless Link, Minorities House,
2-5 Minorities, London EC3N 1BJ

As part of any recruitment process, Homeless Link collects and processes personal data relating to job applicants. We are committed to being transparent about how we collect and use that data and to meeting our data protection obligations.

What information does Homeless Link collect?

Homeless Link collects a range of information about you. This includes:

- your name, address and contact details, including email address and telephone number;
- details of your qualifications, skills, experience and employment history;
- whether or not you have a disability for which the organisation needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process;
- information about your entitlement to work in the UK; and
- equal opportunities monitoring information, including information about your gender, ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health and religion or belief.

Homeless link collects this information in a variety of ways. For example, data might be contained in application forms, CVs, job application cover letters obtained from your passport or other identity documents or collected through interviews or other forms of assessment.

Homeless Link will also collect personal data about you from third parties, such as references supplied by former employers. We will seek information from third parties only once a job offer has been made and will inform you that we are doing so.

Data will be stored in Homeless Link's HR electronic filing systems and email.

Why does Homeless Link process personal data?

Homeless Link needs to process your data to enter into a contract with you.

In some cases, Homeless Link needs to process data to ensure that it is complying with its legal obligations. For example, we are required to check a successful applicant's eligibility to work in the UK before employment starts.

Homeless Link has a legitimate interest in processing personal data during the recruitment process and for keeping records of the process. Processing data from job applicants allows the organisation to manage the recruitment process, assess and confirm a candidate's suitability for employment and decide to whom to offer a job and assess training needs. We may also need to process data from job applicants to respond to and defend against legal claims.

Homeless Link will process health information if it needs to make reasonable adjustments to the recruitment process for candidates who have a disability. This is to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

Where Homeless Link processes other special categories of data, such as information about ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health or religion or belief, this is for equal opportunities monitoring purposes. Data that the organisation uses for these purposes is anonymised for reporting purposes and is collected with the express consent of applicants. Applicants are entirely free to decide whether to provide such data and there are no consequences of failing to do so.

Homeless Link will not use your data for any purpose other than the recruitment exercise for which you have applied unless you give us permission to do so.

Who has access to data?

Your information will be shared with colleagues in Homeless Link if access to the data is necessary for the performance of their roles. This includes members of the Central Services team, recruitment panel members for this vacancy and directors in the business area with a vacancy.

Homeless Link will not share your data with third parties, unless your application for employment is successful and we make you an offer of employment. Homeless Link will then share your data with former employers to obtain references for you.

Homeless Link will not transfer your data outside the European Economic Area.

How does Homeless link protect data?

The organisation takes the security of your data seriously. It has internal policies and controls in place to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed, and is not accessed except by our employees in the proper performance of their duties. Access to the Recruitment Email and the Recruitment folder is restricted to the Central Services team. Hard copies of application forms may be made for shortlisting purposes but personal information, e.g. Name, Address etc is removed and only supplied to panel for applicants attending the interview. All hard copy papers are shredded at the end of the recruitment procedure.

How long does Homeless Link keep data?

If your application for employment is unsuccessful, Homeless Link will hold your data on file for 6 months after the end of the relevant recruitment process. At the end of that period your data is deleted.

If your application for employment is successful, personal data gathered during the recruitment process will be transferred to your personal file and retained during your employment. The periods for which data will be held will be provided to employees in a new privacy notice.

Your rights

As a data subject, you have a number of rights. You can:

- access and obtain a copy of your data on request;
- require Homeless Link to change incorrect or incomplete data;
- require Homeless Link to delete or stop processing your data, for example where the data is no longer necessary for the purposes of processing;
- object to the processing of your data where Homeless Link is relying on its legitimate interests as the legal ground for processing; and
- ask Homeless Link to stop processing data for a period if data is inaccurate or there is a dispute about whether or not your interests override the organisation's legitimate grounds for processing data.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact Matt Harrison on info@homelesslink.org.uk. You can make a subject access request by completing the organisation's Privacy Rights Request Webform at the bottom of the organisations Privacy and Data webpage.

If you believe that Homeless Link has not complied with your data protection rights, you can complain to the Information Commissioner.

What if you do not provide personal data?

You are under no statutory or contractual obligation to provide data to Homeless Link during the recruitment process. However, if you do not provide the information, we may not be able to process your application properly, or at all.

Automated decision-making

Recruitment processes are not based solely on automated decision-making.

What We Do

Homeless Link is the national membership charity for frontline homelessness services. We work to improve services through research, guidance and learning, and campaign for policy change that will ensure everyone has a place to call home and the support they need to keep it.
